

An echo of yesterday passes overhead.

FLY-IN!

They come from all points across the land: the Wacos, Stearman, Ryan, the P-51 fighters of another era and the home-made models reflecting individual ideas. There might even be the big Ford Tri-Motor, available for flights lasting 15 minutes and providing a sky-high view of the 16th Annual "Fly-In" coming to Rockford, Ill.

The event, held the first week of August, is sponsored by the Experimental Aircraft Association, an organization founded in 1953 by Paul Poberezny, Milwaukee, Wis., and now boasting a membership near 40,000 representing all 50 states and 43 foreign countries.

The EAA, a non-profit organization, also sponsors an air-education museum and headquarters at Franklin, Wis., but one week per year it conducts the international convention of its members, regulating some 27,000 landings and take-offs of their unique aircraft.

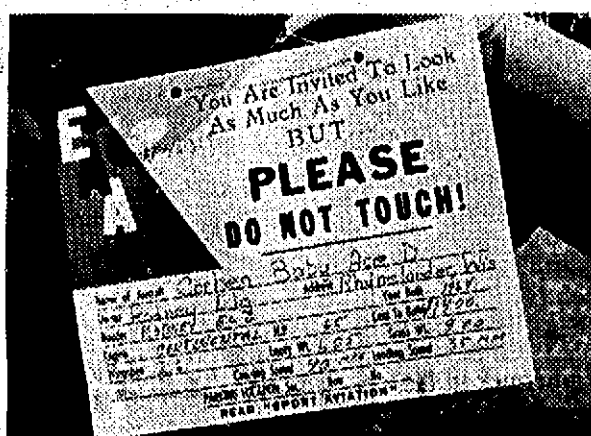

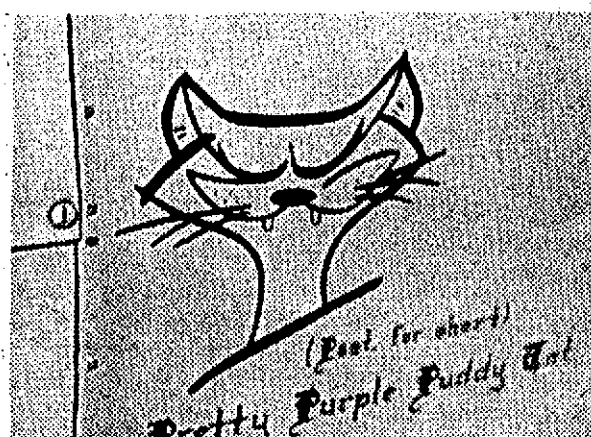

Currently, some 2,000 amateur-built planes have been completed by members, while roughly 6,000 other members are currently busy constructing or refurbishing their own planes.

For the visitor and organizational members who come to the small town 90 miles northwest of Chicago, Ill., the EAA provides free parking space, food tents and viewing access to the over 160 airplanes lined in patterned rows across the field.

Each evening at 7:00 p.m., when wind turbulence is at a minimum, an air show provides spectators with upside-down flying, wing-walking, parachute jumping, precision flying and airplane acrobatics.

Scattered between tents and campers of those remaining more than one day are larger tents featuring the latest in factory planes and parts for the interested flying buff.

This year's event, with its brightly colored aircraft and the strange shape of things to come, perhaps, will bring more than 400,000 people to the Greater Rockford Airport, south of the city on U.S. Highway 51, to take part in the Experimental Aircraft Association's biggest, and best, "Fly-In."

Owen Vandiver, Pitcher, Okla., checks over the craft built by Arman J. LaReau, Jr., Beaver Dam, Wis.

Four years of work by Tracy Pilurs, Highland Park, Ill., finished this "Pretty Purple Puddy Tail" airplane.

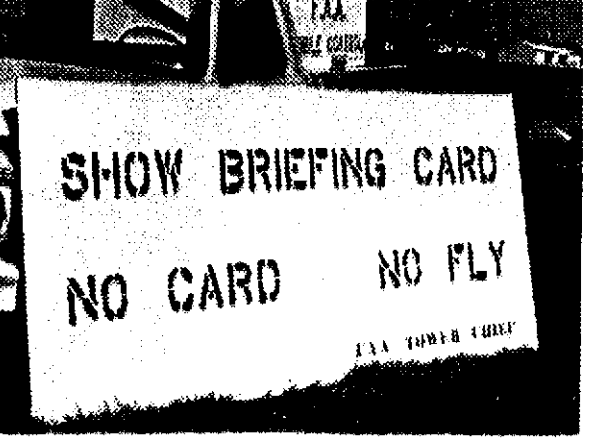

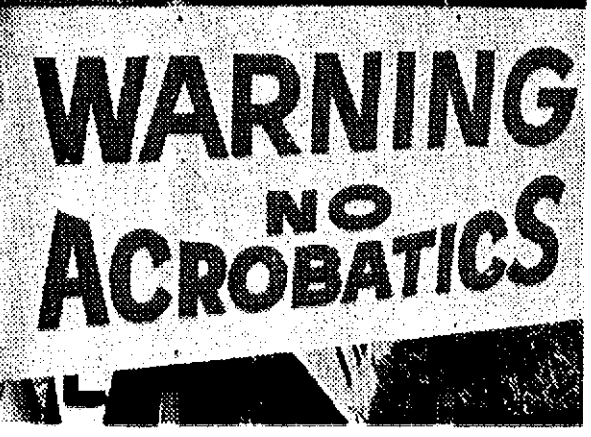

Wiping his "Pitts Special", built from scratch, is Howard Sevdy, Worthington, Minn.

Across the parking area they stretch wing to wing.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Reports—Inaccurate, as it turned out—of the impending cancellation of NBC's science-fiction series, "Star Trek" earlier this year result in a record-breaking flood of viewer mail, even some demonstrations outside network headquarters. In the eye of the storm was Bill Shatner, ex-Shakespearean actor, ex-Broadway performer, who has been learning that being a television star in a popular series—in some ways—isn't all it's cracked up to be.

By WILLIAM SHATNER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — As a professional actor with 15 years experience I have enjoyed some success among the fans and my fellow actors, but never have I experienced such acclaim as my role in "Star Trek" has brought me.

The mere fact that I am an actor would indicate that I enjoy this, and naturally I do, but it's a funny thing the way the sudden public recognition changes how you are treated not only by the fans, but by your fellow actors, directors, producers and even your family.

For example before I was in this series going to a movie was no big thing. I'd just get in my car, drive to the theater and buy a ticket. Now if I stand in line to buy a ticket people ask for autographs, stare, poke each other and ask, "What's he doing standing in line." It really becomes kind of uncomfortable.

So as a result now I call the theater and say I want to come and see the picture, but that I don't want to stand in the box-office line impeding the orderly sale of tickets. Usually they say just come right to the door and we'll collect your money there.

Things changed after the first year of the series. Now nobody on the set comes up and says, "Hi, Bill. How are you?" I find that I have to walk up to them, and say hello first. It's all a little silly, but there is a definite change in the way people treat anyone who happens to be lucky enough to be in a hit series.

Even directors are inclined now to suggest rather than tell you how they want a scene played. It used to be, "Bill, in this scene I want you to do this and so." Now the approach seems to be, "Bill, how do you feel about doing the scene this way?"

Producers seem to be affected in the same way. Used to be they'd call, if I were lucky, and say, "Bill, I've got a role in this picture that you might fit." They would then pause and wait for me to jump at the job offer. Now the approach is, "I don't really think you'd be interested in this role, but—"

Still another, and more shocking change in attitude is within my own family. Not my immediate family, but with cousins, aunts and uncles with whom I grew up. Last year I was in Montreal for a large family gathering.

"I'm not Billy to them anymore. Some of them even asked me for autographs for their children. That is ridiculous. I'm the same kid that used to steal apples from the trees and let air out of tires and all the mischievous things all kids do as they grow up. I've known these people all my life and suddenly now there is a distance between us that was never there before."

Cynthia Lowry is on vacation.

I Got Things to Say

NEW YORK (NEA)—The
bitter taste of his four months with the Chicago Cubs still lingers for Lou Johnson.
When he was traded at the end of June to the Cleveland Indians, Johnson couldn't get away from the Cubs fast enough. There were two primary reasons.

"A lot of young southern players and Leo Durocher," said Johnson. "Those southern players still don't understand about the blacks and what this black athlete revolt's all about. And you can't tell me these very same guys street corners in small towns

those places and call people

"Durocher is a swell guy off the field. But on the field he is one horse-manure manager. He's a little dictator."

Citizens Of Hempstead County:

You should know about state highway construction now underway in Hempstead County and have this opportunity to review past state highway construction in the County. Millions of dollars has been spent, and much planning and hard work has gone into this highway work and I am proud, that as your Representative, I assisted and participated in all of these accomplishments. Those of you who worked with me and others, on the various roads and highways in Hempstead County will remember the problems we encountered and the splendid cooperation received from Governors, Highway Department Commissioners, Former County Judges, officials and other individuals involved.

Underway NOW in Hempstead County are the following paving projects: State Highways 195, DeAnn to Marlbrook (Marlbrook is on State Highway 24 between Blevins and Prescott); State Highway 332, DeAnn to the Nevada County Line (This will complete the paving of the road from DeAnn to Prescott); and State Highway 355, Spring Hill to Bois D'Arc Lake. The final construction, which includes paving, of state Highway 195, from Fulton to Washington is dependent on:

1. Right-of-way being furnished without cost and free of obstructions (fences, utilities and structures) to the state.
2. The Highway Commission approval and the availability of funds and personnel.

This summer only spot and routine graveling is being done. However, I will work hard to securing the paving of this highway next summer. Already 8 bridges and approaches have been constructed on the right-of-way of this highway.

In my first term in the Legislature, as your Representative, my first experience in working with others to secure the paving of a gravel road was in contracting and urging the then Governor Homer Adkins, and the then highway Commission, to complete the paving of State Highway 29 from Hope to the Lafayette County Line. I well remember flying Paul Jones, of the Hope Star, down over this highway in 1941 for a view of the paving work then in progress.

In my second term as your Representative, which followed my return from World War II, we had two paving projects completed in 1947. One was east from Hope on State Highway 4 to State Highway 32 (the junction of the Shover Springs, Bodcaw road with Highway 4), and this was given a high type resurfacing job in 1962. The others was State Highway 27 from the Howard County Line to the Pike County Line, and it was given a high type re-surfacing in 1966. In 1948 on State Highway 4 from Washington to Nashville we realized the completion of continuous paving, and this highway received a high type re-surfacing in 1966-67.

State Highways 4, Hope to Washington, and State Highway 32 (Shover Springs turn off) to the Nevada County Line were, in 1950, completely paved, and both received a high-type re-surfacing in 1966.

The road from Springhill to Highway 29, having been added to the State system, was paved in 1955 along with the completion of continuous paving on Highway 24 from Blevins to Prescott.

In 1956 Highways 29 from Hope to Blevins, 73 from junction of 4 to Cross Roads, 355 from Fulton to Saratoga, and 24 from McCaskill to Nashville were all completed with continuous paving. Highway 29 from Hope to Blevins is now under contract for a high type resurfacing. 73 from the Junction of 4 to Cross Roads received a high type re-surfacing, as did 355 from Fulton to Saratoga this year.

Highway 332 from 29 to DeAnn was paved in 1957.

In 1958 Highway 24 from Blevins to McCaskill was completely paved.

Highways 332 from DeAnn to the east several miles, and 73 from Cross Roads to Columbus were paved in 1959, and this section of 73 received a hightype re-surfacing in 1967.

The paving of Highway 32 from the Junction of Highway 4 to Shover Springs was accomplished in 1962, and in 1964 it was completed on to the Nevada County Line resulting in most sincere appreciation by all who had for so long worked and hoped for the paving of this road.

Highway 29 from Blevins to the Junction of 29 and Highway 19 (from Prescott to Delight) was paved in 1966.

In order to meet the Millwood Dam dedication date in late 1966 Highway 332 was paved from Saratoga to the Corps of Engineers job. Your Representative with others personally helped make this paving a reality.

It is interesting to know that U.S. Highway 67 was reconstructed from Fulton to Hope in 1952, resurfaced in 1967, and received a shoulder seal in 1968; and from Hope to Emmet was re-constructed in 1958, was re-surfaced and received a shoulder seal in 1968.

White edge stripes, which are a wonderful safety factor, have been applied on Highway 4 between Hope and Nashville, and Highway 73 from the Junction of Highway 4 to Saratoga. These white edge stripes have been requested and will be placed on U.S. 67 between Fulton and the Clark County Line in the immediate future.

My review of our state Highways in Hempstead County would not be complete without my telling you that we have one of the finest Highway Departments in the nation, and the officials, Department Heads, District Engineers and employees exhibit a high degree of loyalty and dedication to their job. As your Representative I have always received the finest of cooperation from them all.

You may rest assured that your Representative, as Chairman of the Legislative Council, Chairman of the Rules Committee of the House, and in all likelihood, as Speaker of the House in the next regular session of the Legislature, will utilize these positions to the fullest to bring more highway improvement and construction than even before to our county.

I will sincerely appreciate your vote and support in the election on July 30.

Between now and the re-opening of school next fall, says Sylvia Porter, 15 million Americans will go camping. They will overload their cars, over-extend their credit and, in the end, over-populate the wilderness exactly as they have over-populated the cities from which they flee.

What they get out of it is anybody's guess. Not peace and quiet, surely. Ivy poisoning is more likely. What they prove is something fundamental and a sobering commentary upon all the efforts to make the city habitable.

The truth is no one really wants to live in the city. Living in the city is a compromise. It is a way to make a living, to keep the kids in school and prepare for the day when it isn't necessary. Come this happy day, everyone will do what he wanted to do in the first place. He will quit the city forever and settle down where a man can hear the corn grow in the intoxicating din of the birds and the bees.

It isn't possible, but the illusion persists and, in moderation, does no great harm. - Charleston (W. Va.) Daily Mail

You've Got Your Wish

Remember those days last winter when the chill never left the outside air? Do you recall what you said when there was sleet, snow and ice underfoot? The slow-starting car, the frozen water line, the coating on the windshield, the runny windows—what was it everybody had in mind? Well, now that the outside is getting to be an oven, the green is fading before the blazing sun, the moisture has turned from surplus to deficit, the hot daylight hours seem to last and last—you've got your winter wish. Only this time you'd like some of that excess cooling the winter of 1967-68 produced.

Vest-pocket Parks

Birmingham has launched a project which can be recommended highly to Augustans. It is designed to provide a playground within walking distance of every child in the city.

Known as vest-pocket parks, the locations are small vacant plots leased from owners for $1 a year. Each is completed in one day's time, with contractors donating bulldozers and workers to clear weeds and trash away, and the city providing swings, sandboxes, basketball goals and monkey bars. Residents have helped with labor.

Augusta might find even the small investment in equipment difficult to work into the budget, when the aggregate amount is considered. But why couldn't service clubs, garden clubs and other groups each sponsor one park? It sounds like something that would help many a child. - Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle

Foreign Aid Lowest in 21 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under heavy battering by both House and Senate, the authorization for President Johnson's foreign aid program will be the lowest in 21 years of overseas assistance.

The latest slashes were made Thursday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which trimmed $25 million out of the military aid section, putting it at $365 million.

President Johnson had asked $420 million for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which reported to the floor by the Foreign Relations Committee the total authorization would be $1.94 billion.

Postal Cuts Delayed for One Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first in a series of postal service cutbacks, scheduled to take effect today, has been put off for a week while Congress considers exempting the Post Office Department from federal manpower reductions.

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson announced the stay late Friday after the Senate voted to exempt postal service from the manpower cuts, dictated by the recently passed income tax bill.

He gave the House a week to follow suit.

Under a timetable announced July 12 the department had planned to cut window service today at first and second class post offices to a maximum of two hours and to put Saturday collections from street boxes on Sunday schedules.

The department said these were the first steps in a sharp curtailment of operations that eventually would lead to closing of 12,000 small branches and restricting of residential deliveries to four days a week.

The Senate added its exemption as a rider to a minor post office bill, opening the way for House approval without having to go through the committee process.

Congress is scheduled to adjourn next Friday until September so members can attend the national political conventions.

Watson said he put off the cutbacks "because the vote of the Senate today indicates an understanding of our highly critical problem of handling a larger workload with a smaller work force."

Under the income tax bill, which increased the individual tax rate 10 per cent and ordered federal spending cut by $6 billion, all government agencies are to cutback personnel to the June 1966 level.

This would cost the post office 83,000 employees over the next two years by preventing it from filling one in every four vacancies.

Poverty Is Good Deal for Some

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., says the activities of an antipoverty program official show "poverty is really a pretty good business for some people."

Rep. Green told the House Thursday that Richard Frost, a $1,000-a-month official with an Upward Bound project in Oregon, also serves as a $100-a-day consultant to a firm that has an Office of Economic Opportunity contract to review Upward Bound grants.

Upward Bound is a program administered by the OEO aimed at helping potential high school dropouts stay in school and go on to higher learning.

Rep. Green said Frost used to be national director of Upward Bound but quit that post to become an advisory board member of Educational Associates which has no other source of income but the OEO.

She said Frost also is deputy director of an Upward Bound program in an Oregon prison for which he draws a $1,000-a-month salary. In addition, she said, he is a professor at Reed College in Portland, Ore., and gets paid between $16,000 and $18,000 a year.

Rep. Green commented in connection with an amendment to a higher education bill that would eliminate OEO's authority to award contracts to private agencies. The amendment was approved.

The bill also would transfer Upward Bound to the Office of Education.

Frost, contacted in Portland, said Rep. Green's criticism stemmed from his opposition to transfer of Upward Bound out of the OEO.

"Now, as a free citizen, I continue to oppose such a transfer," Frost said.

"Mrs. Green has a real political clout over the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and would like this successful program (Upward Bound) in that department," he added.

Number of Rackets Exceeded Only by Number of Victims

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

The number of "rackets" running rampant are exceeded only by those who fall for them. It seems there are "con" men (and women) in almost every type of business, and B. N. Holt of the Hope Chamber of Commerce has offered some valuable information to the public from the Better Business Bureau as a warning.

The Missing Heir Scheme: People with a common last name — such as Smith or Brown — are sometimes sent a semi-official looking document reporting that a person with his surname died without known heirs or a will, and the funds will revert to the state unless they are claimed. The "catch" is that the promoter offers to sell a copy of probate records involving the administration of the state and the personal history of the deceased for fees ranging from $6 to $21. If you receive such a letter, forward it to the postal inspector of the BBB.

Bargain hunters who sent $19.95 for that $58 camera advertised in Grit Magazine by Discount Photo Supply, Miami Beach, can probably kiss their money goodbye. (The owner of the company is now in jail in Miami on previous fraud charges and at last report was being held without bond.)

Buying insurance with a company unlicensed in Arkansas contains many disadvantages. Recently such a mail order insurance company had its advertising claims challenged as being misleading, particularly with reference to so-called savings of 50 per cent in the first year on the cost of insurance. Before purchase investigate the company. Since we have no Better Business Bureau in Hope, check with the Chamber of Commerce which is affiliated with the BBB.

Reports reaching the National BBB indicate that the nationally infamous "Terrible Williamsons" are again operating in various parts of the country. For over 60 years the Williamsons have been skilled in the art of the confidence man. As the tribe has grown, of course, many now bear another family name. Their schemes vary to fit the times and the area worked.

They have posed as seamen "just off the ship" with some smuggled goods they would sell for a fraction of its worth. Members of the distaff side have rung door bells and have palmed off cheap, domestic made products as real "Irish lace" made by my own grandmother. They have toured rural areas with trucks and painted barns at fancy prices with "paint" that washed off with the first rains. And they have flim-flammed farmers and home owners with fake lightning rod installations. More recently, they have been operating in suburban areas doing home and driveway repairs.

And despite repeated warnings by the BBB over a long period of years, the model home pitch continues to be used to deceive and defraud the public in the sale of aluminum siding. Basically, this is the way it works: a salesman tells the homeowner that one of the well-known national concerns (Alcoa, Kaiser, or Reynolds) has selected the home for illustration purposes in a before-and-after advertisement on aluminum siding. The whole pitch is phony. No big company is represented, and there is no intention of using the home as a model. Then, instead of getting the promised discount price, the homeowner is actually charged several thousand dollars above the normal competitive price.

The latter racket is nationwide and has been exposed repeatedly, but the lure of "something-for-nothing" continues to victimize a gullible public. Homeowners can avoid being victimized by 1) dealing only with firms whose dependability and reliability are known to you or which you have established through intelligent inquiry; 2) don't rush into any important home improvement job; 3) beware of the salesman who wants to use your home as a "model"; 4) make sure the salesman you are dealing with represents the company he says he does and actually handles the brand or brands he claims; 5) read and understand the contract before you sign and keep a copy of it.

New England Has Heaviest War Toll

By BOB HORTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Hampshire, Hawaii and Massachusetts have suffered the highest percentage of men killed in terms of men entering the service since Americans started fighting in the Vietnam war.

This finding, based on an Associated Press tabulation, comes from official combat death totals listed for each state as compared with draft figures and estimated enlistments between Jan. 1, 1961, and May 30, 1968.

The AP count shows New Hampshire has suffered 99 dead from hostile action in the war from among an estimated 7,542 men drafted or who enlisted or, more precisely, .013 per cent of the state's manpower contribution.

Hawaii had 127 dead from among an estimated 12,393 drafted or enlisted during the 89-month period for a loss of .0102 per cent.

Massachusetts gave up 586 killed from an estimated 61,668 put into uniform during the period, or .0095 per cent.

In effect, the figures suggest that New Hampshire and Hawaii gave up more than 10 dead, and Massachusetts more than nine dead, per 1,000 men taken into service during the Vietnam war period.

In sheer numbers alone, California still has lost the most men, 2,399, according to the latest computerized count compiled only Thursday by the Department of Defense.

New York, second most populous state behind California, follows in the pure-number category with 1,836 war dead. Texas is third with 1,436.

The AP tabulation on the leaders according to proportionate losses cannot be called precise because of several varying factors.

Anti-Castro Men Bomb N.Y. Paper

NEW YORK (AP) — A "powerful hand grenade" exploded today in the offices of the Evergreen Review in Greenwich Village, shattering three windows but causing no injuries. It was the 12th bombing incident in the metropolitan area since April 22.

Moments later a man who said he was speaking for a newly formed anti-Castro exile group telephoned The Associated Press and claimed credit for the attack as well as for two earlier bombings which did not explode.

The caller said: "We have begun to commemorate the morning of the 26th of July. Commandos of the MNCC have attacked at 2:35 a.m. the office of Evergreen magazine."

He said the attack was made because the magazine had published the Che Guevara diary "and because of their position in favor of international communism."

The 11 previous bombing incidents, including one in Newark, N.J., have been at eight foreign tourist or diplomatic offices of countries which trade with Cuba, two taverns frequented by Cubans and a pacifist bookstore.

Hunger in U.S. Only Diet Issue

By DON KENDALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hunger in the United States is mainly a health problem that cannot be solved by simply putting more food in undernourished empty bellies, says a new report.

The report, circulating among influential medical people, public officials and researchers, is highly critical of a study by the Citizens Board of Inquiry earlier this year.

The report, circulating among influential medical people, public officials and researchers, is highly critical of a study by the Citizens Board of Inquiry earlier this year.

The report is entitled "Hunger USA—A Critical Review."

The author is Dr. Herbert Pollack, a staff member of the Institute for Defense Analyses, a private corporation which handles a variety of research projects for the Pentagon.

The IDA said the Pollack report was his own and is not endorsed by the organization. It was published by IDA, a spokesman said, "as a courtesy" to Pollack, who was described as "a widely recognized authority in the medical profession."

The published findings of the Citizens Board of Inquiry have weighed heavily in efforts for expanded food programs.

"It is unfortunate that a report of this importance should contain so many factual errors and manifest a lack of basic knowledge of nutrition," Pollack said.

"It must be considered more of a political polemic than a scientific treatise. It seems to stir up action based on an emotional appeal," he added. "As a scientific document it fails to supply the necessary information to direct the energies of the responsible people into the proper channels of corrective measures."

An example, Pollack said, is a hunger report statement that nutritional anemia stemming primarily from protein and iron deficiencies was commonly found in 30 to 70 per cent of the children from poverty backgrounds.

"The report does not, at this point, mention that over 50 per cent of these children were found to have intestinal parasites which may well be the cause of the anemias," he said.

"Another well-known cause of childhood anemia is over use of milk. The bulk of the evidence is that this is an iron deficiency anemia and not a protein deficiency. It was correctible by the addition of iron to the diet," he added.

Accounts of poor people existing on diets of blackeye peas, grits, flour, fatback, potatoes and beans also were cited by Pollack.

"Blackeye peas are excellent sources of protein as are beans," he said. "The potatoes are good sources of Vitamin C and calories, and the fatback is a good source of calories and protects the greens during the cooking process."

"The monotony of eating is frequently by choice," he said. "People do not like to eat strange foods."

Anemia, Pollack said, is a symptom of "a variety of chronic causes," including chronic bleeding, intestinal parasites, iron deficiency, protein deficiency, inherent bone-marrow diseases and many others.

Pollack said the hunger report asked whether poor people getting food through welfare programs receive enough protein in "starch foods" such as potatoes, grits, rice, cornpone, bread and beans.

The implication was, Pollack said, that children suffer physical damage from such diets.

Pollack said the health problems of Negroes "are inseparably connected with his poor housing, unemployment and inadequate education" and that "the health problem of the Negro are also the health problems of the poor."

Air Base in Thailand Hit by Cong

SAIGON (AP) — A guerrilla force attacked a U.S. Air Force base in Thailand for the first time in the Vietnam war Friday night, damaging two planes, killing a Thai guard and wounding four Americans.

Two of the enemy were reported killed and one captured during the brief assault on Udorn Air Base in northern Thailand, an area which the Bangkok government says is infested by North Vietnamese-backed guerrillas.

An Air Force spokesman said it was the first time an American base in Thailand had come under attack. Udorn, with 6,500 airmen and 100 warplanes, is the largest of seven U.S. bases in Thailand from which most strikes are mounted against North Vietnam.

Associated Press correspondent Peter O'Loughlin reported from Udorn that a guerrilla band of unknown size penetrated the base's perimeter with small arms fire and satchel charges and tried to reach a flight line where the main contingent of F4 Phantom fighter-bombers and reconnaissance jets was parked.

A combined Thai-American security force drove the enemy back as they tried to place explosives around the parked aircraft.

An F4 and a C141 Starlifter, a four-engined jet cargo aircraft fitted for medical evacuation, were damaged by fire. Two Air Force women corpsmen were at the evacuation craft when the attack began, but were not harmed.

The attackers also triggered an ammunition and fuel explosion which was brought under control quickly.

In South Vietnam, enemy gunners zeroed in with rockets for the third straight night on the Da Nang fighter base, from which attack missions are also mounted against the panhandle.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Goldsmith reported from Da Nang, 375 miles north-east of Saigon, that one squadron from the 1st Marine Air Wing was temporarily grounded after a Russian-made 100-pound rocket scored a direct hit on a hangar housing several of the Marine A6 all-weather jet intruders. One of the $6 million aircraft was destroyed and another heavily damaged.

In the ground war, 1st Air Cavalry troopers discovered a major enemy base camp that contained large field hospitals, quantities of medicines, narcotics and bandages. The outpost, known as base camp 114, is about 50 miles square and lies west and southwest of the old Imperial capital of Hue. It is a sector that has come under heavy B52 bombardment in recent days.

Around Saigon, ground action was reported light.

2 Hurt in Stolen Car Chase

LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Two men, who were injured Friday night while attempting to elude police in a high-speed chase, were transferred to a Texarkana hospital early this morning.

Lafayette County Sheriff Wade Tatum said the two men had been tentatively identified as Richard Keeny, 31, and Bob Rawls, 25, both of Warren.

Tatum said the men were in a stolen car and were being pursued by State Trooper Bill Booher when the vehicle veered to make a curve on Arkansas 29 at the Lafayette-Hempstead county line.

Tatum said speeds reached 125 miles an hour during the chase, which he said lasted about 9 miles.
